I had the joy of having Mindy teach both of my daughters and Leah teach my youngest daughter in preschool. I cannot say enough about how wonderful these women are! They have such a love for Christ that overflows into a love for their students. They both consistently encourage learning, growing in independence and growing in faith for their students. They are very creative in the ways that they encourage learning; presenting their students with crafts, sensory activities, experiments, games, and gross and fine motor play to reinforce the lessons that they are learning. They also kindly build confidence in their students to allow them to grow in their independence with daily living skills, social skills, and play skills. Above all they beautifully weave Jesus's love into their lessons and activities with their students and provide a foundation for this truth.

Mindy and Leah are also fantastic in communicating with parents. They provide a daily check in with each parent, a weekly summary of the lessons learned that week, and a monthly calendar. They also welcome families into their classroom and provide many opportunities for parents to help out as they are able.

My girls loved their time in Mindy and Leah's classroom and I am so grateful to have had them teach my children!
